

“Mi Futuro esta en Carreras de Salud”
Mental Health & Primary Health Career Symposium for Youth
2019 Theme: Compasión & Profesión
Sonoma State University Student Center
Friday, January 11, 2019

Dear EXHIBITOR:

Sonoma State University, Latino Service Providers, Santa Rosa City Schools, Santa Rosa Junior College, Sonoma County Office of Education, Sonoma County Behavioral Health Department, & community partners, in cooperation with a strong and diverse planning committee are excited to offer the upcoming youth healthcare symposium, “Mi Futuro esta en Carreras de Salud/ My Future is in Healthcare Careers”. 2019 Theme: “Compasión y Profesión/ Compassion and Profession”. We invite you to participate in the “Discovery Center” and Exhibit at this event!!

The symposium will highlight careers in Behavioral Health and Primary Healthcare, as well as addressing pressing needs of mental health amongst youth attendee population. Students will engage in workshops and interactive medical stations designed to raise awareness of the need for bilingual and diverse healthcare providers. To better serve our students, we invite Exhibitors like you to share their wealth of information and resources.

Our 3-fold mission is to:

1. Promote Mental Health wellness among youth.
2. Inspire youth to pursue behavioral & primary healthcare careers.
3. Promote total health by advocating higher education attainment, a key social determinant of health.

Mi Futuro will be held on Friday, January 11, 2019 at Sonoma State University’s Student Center Grand Ballroom from 9:30am to 4:45pm. Exhibitors from various institutions and organizations will be a part of this highly anticipated event that will inform 400 students and teachers about vocational, undergraduate, and graduate programs in the Behavioral and Primary healthcare fields.
